

SDWWA William Brinker Award

The South Dakota Water and Wastewater Association annually recognizes a wastewater operator whose efforts have improved and sustained operation and maintenance of a wastewater facility in South Dakota resulting in a better plant effluent and/or receiving stream condition. The operator is judged with respect to operation and utilization of the facility she/he operates and maintains. The benchmark for this award shall be exemplary performance beyond the expected level of competence for that facility, whether it is a stabilization pond or tertiary treatment plant. The rules governing the William Brinker Award are as follows:

1. Eligibility

All South Dakota residents who are engaged in wastewater treatment operation and are a current member of the South Dakota Water and Wastewater Association.

2. Plaque/Presentation

The William Brinker Award is a plaque on which the recipient's name and the year awarded will be engraved. The plaque becomes the permanent property of the Award Winner. The award is presented at the Annual Conference banquet.

3. Nominations

This is an operator award-NOT a facility award. At least three operators shall be selected for consideration. Nominations of an operator may be made by anyone. Nominations must be received by SDWWA by July 15 of each year. To nominate an operator, please submit the following: Nominee Name, Address, Wastewater System, Nominator's Name, and a complete description of efforts that have improved and sustained operation and maintenance of a wastewater facility in South Dakota resulting in a better plant effluent and/or receiving stream condition. Please submit to:
